Washington, D. C. July 24.—Mounted police officer Everett Grimes, of the Chevy Chase district, will not have to make up from his own pocket the full value of the horse which was struck by lightning and killed while he was riding it on his regular beat. The authorities ruled that notwithstanding the horse was killed in the performance of duty, Grimes would have to make good the loss, but citizens of Chevy Chase who know Grimes and like him, made up a purse to defray the cost of another horse. So far $50 has been raised. Pending selection of a new mount, Grimes is riding a thoroughbred mount donated for the occasion by a well-known horse fancier of the neighborhood.

Grimes was stunned by the lightning bolt which struck his horse, but was not seriously injured.

Dark Blue Taffeta

By GERTRUDE HERESFORD. DARK blue taffeta strikes all the high spots of the season in this attractive fabric. The dress is of white organdy, finished with a blue tie and blue taffeta buttons. The skirt is in a tab held by a black jet button. Similar buttons and ties complete the short sleeves. The skirt is of the Mouline or Turkish variety. Its fullness is looped under and attached to a drooping of black net, but laqueous coolness. The front is held by tiny blue taffeta buttons. Black jet may be substituted for these on vest and skirt. Knife-bladed flounce of taffeta are set on either side of the skirt and produce the approved silhouette. The hat combines black satin and blue straw. The tassel is blue.

Fireman Out in Force to Save a Burnt Steak New York, July 24.—One battalion chief, the crews of three fire engines, one hook and ladder company and one patrolman were required to extinguish a breakfast which caught fire on the gas stove in the home of Mrs. Hirschhorn, in Brooklyn. Much against her wishes, Mrs. Hirschhorn and several little Hirschhorns were rescued by patrolman Schmittmuller, of Brewster. On the street she expressed her opinion of the police and fire departments, and her wrath at a neighbor who, seeing smoke pouring from the window of the Hirschhorns' home, turned in an alarm. The damage consisted of one ruined steak.
